

GRIFFITH COLLEGE

1. Griffith offers a wide range of QQI validated Undergraduate programmes:

Choose a QQI validated course with Griffith College from one of our five main undergraduate faculties including Business, Computer Science, Design, Law and Journalism and Media. We have level 7 and level 8 undergraduate programmes that you can complete in 3 or 4 years of study. Many of our programmes are recognised internationally, allowing you an opportunity to work in Ireland or abroad.

2. Recognised by Industry:

All our courses are delivered by experienced professionals who have a strong reputation within their field. Our courses are renowned for exposing students to the world of work and our course modules have been designed to meet the skills required by various industries. Focusing on both theoretical and soft skills, our graduates are well equipped for life as working professionals after college.

3. Smaller Class Sizes, Individual Support:

Griffith offers unique support and one to one attention to all its learners, to help you reach your full potential. Our smaller class sizes allow you to thrive in a supportive learning environment. If you favour an environment where you can get to know the lecturers and your peers, then Griffith College is for you. Furthermore, we have a dedicated team of professionals on campus to support you during your studies, these include our Learning Support Officer, Careers Officer, Student Union Welfare Officer, and college Counsellor.

4. Vibrant Campus Life:

Griffith College is the largest private college in Ireland with over 7,000 students across our 7-acre Dublin and Cork campuses, and an urban campus in the heart of Limerick. Our largest campus on South Circular Road, Dublin 8, provides students with access to our Students Union with active clubs and societies including our very successful Griffith College Templeogue basketball team, our onsite gym facilities and our modern Urban Square restaurant where students have daily access to healthy meals.

5. Accommodation:

Griffith College Dublin welcomes students to avail of its on campus accommodation in our Griffith Halls of Residence, based within minutes of the college library, our creative studios, the Urban Square restaurant, the fitness room facilities and the Students' Union. Also, Griffith Hall's is just 20 minutes from Dublin City Centre and surrounding tourist attractions across the Liberties.

6. Excellent On-Campus Facilities:

Our college is equipped with state-of-the-art facilities for all students. Students have access to numerous lecture rooms and our large library, with a dedicated team library staff on campus to provide extra support. For students studying courses with practical elements we offer an on-campus radio station with two broadcasting studios, four photographic studios, three dark rooms, one television and video studio, one sound engineering studio, and two multimedia production rooms as well as state of the art computer labs.

7. Reputation for Student Success

Griffith College has a strong national and international reputation for success, which is built on 40 years of teaching experience and striving for excellence. Our programmes are tailored to support the learner and allow the student an element of choice with regards to modules they wish to study. Our students work hard to achieve excellent results and win many prizes in the examinations of independent Irish and international professional bodies.

8. Exposure to Guest Lecturers from Industry

Our links with industry ensure that our students, across all courses, receive presentations and lectures from cutting edge industry professionals. This allows students an opportunity to gain an insight into a career and ensures that our students are in the know on developments within their industry. The students often feel inspired and motivated by the guest lecturer. These situations are crucial to allow the students to visualise their future and draw on connections between their current studies and their future career.

9. Employability:

Many former Griffith College students have risen to senior positions in prestigious national and international companies. Their success is a testament to the value of Griffith College and its place in the national and wider international community. We believe that we can help you achieve these same levels of success. For more information on the range of companies where our successful graduates now work, check out the Alumni Profiles section on the Griffith.ie website.
